

(I Can't Resist)
A Big Guy Like You

Short, flat crewcut with a rock-hard jaw
Makes me buckle like a drinking straw.
Broad and brawny shoulders--
Passion starts to smolder,
Cause I can't resist a big guy like you.

Bushy eyebrows and a thick mustache--
Sounding trumpets and a cymbal crash!
Muscular and burly--
I surrender early,
Cause I can't resist a big guy like you.

Hey, furry bruin,
How the hell you doin'?
You'll need about a day to shave.
Tell me, handsome,
Are you ever lonesome?
Any extra room in your cave?

Feet set firmly, standing ramrod straight,
Huge and hulking with a lumbering gait,
Mama didn't tell me
How it would overwhelm me,
And so I never learned what to do
So I hang here helpless and I can't withstand
That much macho in a macho man
Go ahead and thrill me,
Even if it kills me,
Cause I can't resist a big guy like you.
